

Mr. H. Seymour Pratt, of the House of Commons, to Mary Anne, daughter of Mr J J Higgins, Faversham, Kent.
 At Barbadoes, Lieut Henry Hertles, 3d W I Regiment, to Miss Sarah Bascom.
 In Clifton, Alfred Thomas Bridgen, son of Joseph Carter, Esq. to Jane Sophia, daughter of the late William Queade, Esq. Captain 77th Regt.

DEATHS.

On Wednesday last, at Currah Bridge, in an advanced age, sincerely lamented by his family and friends, Richard Parsons, Esq. of Cragbeg.

At his residence, Albert Place, in this City, on the 23d ult. in the 71st year of his age, sincerely and deservedly regretted, John Perrot, Esq. youngest brother of Samuel Perrott, Esq. Cleve Hill, Cork. The remains were interred in the family vault at Castle Hyde Church, Fermoy.

On Thursday morning, at Merchant's quay, of consumption, Adelaide Matilda, the beloved child of Mrs. Lysaght, aged fourteen years.

At her seat, Kilcoleman, county Tipperary, on Monday, the 27th ult. Amy, widow of the late George Finch, Esq. and sister of the Rev Standish Grady Parker, of Castle Lough, a lady of the most unblemished honor and integrity, and deeply lamented by her numerous relatives and friends. Her end was, as her life—peaceful and serene. The remains repose in the family vault at Nenagh.

Monday night, at his house in Fedamore, John Synan, sen Esq. after a life of eighty years, spent in discharging those primary duties which naturally spring from the social position of a country gentleman. He was a landlord who acted upon the christian rule of "doing unto others as he would that other men would do towards him." He was an extensive employer, more frequently through charity than necessity, of great industrial enterprise in his many business engagements, and he will be long remembered for his scrupulous integrity. In a distressed and populous neighbourhood his door was the refuge of the poor, and if anything can console his family for the loss of such a parent it will be the recollection of his exemplary life and the firm hope with which he clung to a merciful Redeemer at his death.

At his residence in Clare street, at the advanced age of 85 years, Peter Cleary, Esq. formerly Custom-house officer at this port—a worthy, respectable citizen.

Elizabeth Jane, aged 16 months, youngest daughter of R. B. Cornille, Thomas street.

On Thursday, in Cecil street, Margaret, and this morning, Charles, children of Mr Thomas O'Donnell.

Mr John Heffal, tailor, Bedford row.

In Waterford, John Mark Pim, Esq.

At Baden Baden, Anna Maria, widow of Charles Trench, Esq. late of Farmley, eldest daughter of the late Luke White, Esq. of Woodlands, county Dublin, and sister of Baroness Massy, of Hermitage, near this City.

On Wednesday, in Dublin, to the deep and lasting regret of his brother officers, Charles Machen, Esq. Lieutenant 75th Regt.

In Upper Baggot street, Henry Smyth, Esq. of the firm of Kinahan, Sons and Smyth.

In Lower Gardiner street, Harriet, relict of Captain Reed Gethin, 23d Dragoons.

At Bellinont, William Thomas Adams Reilly, Esq.

At Craunmore, on St Stephen's day, of typhus fever, caught in the discharge of his professional duties, Doctor Robert Lambert, who has left a widow and eight children.
